ASTROS: Berkman ends drought with homer in the ninth.

"Roy Oswalt is the story of the game," Pence said. "He came out and pitched an unbelievable game. He kept us in it. The offense took awhile to get started. His outing is the reason we were able to win."

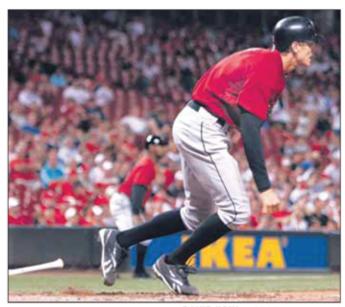

Hitting 94 mph as late as the seventh inning, Oswalt matched Johnny Cueto's impressive outing, proved it's too early to discount him and, more importantly, helped get the win.

Gives bullpen break

Oswalt held the Reds to one run on six hits and two walks with two strikeouts over seven innings. He also gave a taxed and injured bullpen a break before a crowd of 12,365. "He was solid tonight," Astros manager Cecil Cooper said. "And this is the way Roy's going to be pitching for us all year. That's what we anticipate."

Cueto also didn't fare in the decision despite holding the Astros to seven hits and one run (on a homer by Lance Berkman) with five strikeouts and one walk over seven innings. With closer Jose Valverde unavailable, Tim Byrdak pitched two-thirds of a scoreless inning, and Chris Sampson added 11/3 scoreless innings to earn the victory.

"Tonight was what we ordered, just what we ordered," Cooper said. "We needed Roy to go deep in the ballgame tonight, and he did a great job, and then Tim Byrdak and Chris both pitched well for us at the end and closed it out. That's what we need: clutch hits and some good pitching."

Berkman gave the Astros a 1-0 lead with a leadoff home run to left in the sixth, snapping an 0-for-16 slump.

Berkman's homer was his 20th at Great American Ball Park, the most by an opponent since the stadium opened in 2003.

Puma loves Cincy

"It's kind of funny," Berkman said. "When I'm struggling, I'll start feeling better, and I'll look up at the schedule and we'll have a trip coming in here."

Oswalt, who remains 23-1 in his career against the Reds, was cruising until Laynce Nix jesus.ortiz@chron.com hit a two-out double to left field in the sixth inning. After Joey Votto refused to chase a 2-2 off-speed pitch, Oswalt threw a 3-2 curveball that was poked for a game-tying single to center.

Brandon Phillips followed with a double toward left fielder Carlos Lee, who has been playing with an injured right Achilles' since Friday. Oswalt intentionally walked Jay Bruce to load the bases. Then Edwin Encarnacion stranded the runners with a dribbler in front of the plate.

"Actually I was thinking about going back out for the eighth," Oswalt said. "I noticed in the last two innings my ball started coming up in the zone. Guys were taking a little better swings.

"I went as hard as I could as long as I could, and that's all I had."

Lee led off the ninth with a bloop single to shallow right field off Francisco Cordero. After Jason Smith was sent to run for Lee, Miguel Tejada singled through the left side.

Pence followed with a tworun double, taking third on Bruce's error. Geoff Blum added a sacrifice fly to right, giving the Astros a 4-1 lead.

"The team won," Oswalt said. "That's all we're looking for."
